Columbus, O., May 22.—Theodore Roosevelt has defeated President Taft by 25,000 to 23,000 votes and has captured thirty-two of the forty-two district delegates. Governor Harmon has defeated Woodrow Wilson by a majority of at least 40,000. These facts stood out prominently as the returns from the Republican and Democratic presidential preference primaries trickled in.

The returns were complete enough to show that Ohio, "the mother of Presidents," had rejected her native son, William Howard Taft, and had decided to support his predecessor for the Republican nomination.

The Taft people were still fighting, and State Manager Lewis C. Laylin claimed that the six delegates-at-large to be chosen by the State convention will be for the President. In reply to this the Roosevelt manager, Walter F. Brown, said:

"The tail will go with the hide." Brown was apparently confident that the State convention will abide by the will of the voters as expressed in the primaries.

Delegates to the State convention were elected from only about one-third of the counties, the remainder to be selected at county convention. Roosevelt has a large majority of those elected.

ON DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

On the Democratic side, Governor Harmon probably will have the solid vote of the Ohio delegation in the Baltimore convention. Though several Wilson delegates were elected, the unit rule will be followed as a result of an agreement made by the Harmon and Wilson followers at a State committee meeting.

The Democratic party provided in its call that the candidates receiving the largest Presidential preference vote shall be permitted to name his own six delegates-at-large to the national convention. This will give Governor Harmon an opportunity to further increase his number of delegates to the Baltimore convention.

Wilson's best showing was made in the cities, while Harmon swept the rural districts. Harmon managed to carry Cincinnati by only a small margin. Wilson captured Cleveland and Toledo. When the city returns, the fight to be reported, came in, the Wilson people were jubilant, but when the rural districts came along the victory of Harmon was soon made clear.

The vote cast for Senator LaFollette was a negligible quantity in the State, though his strength in the Twentieth and Twenty-first districts, comprising Toledo and Cleveland, was one of the surprises of the primaries. In the former he forced Taft into third place, and in the latter he ran a close third. Roosevelt's vote in Cleveland more than doubled that of Taft. The victory of the ex-President in the districts which he carried was overwhelming, and his popularity was shown particularly in the rural districts, in numerous places the vote recorded in his favor being as high as 5 to 1 and 10 to 1.

Taft was victor in his home city, Cincinnati, winning both the First and Second districts (Hamilton County.)

The vote was close in the Third, Seventh and Thirteenth districts, but they went to Taft.

The Fifth and Fifteenth districts gave one each to Taft and Roosevelt. This was undoubtedly due to confusion among the Republican voters over the form of the ballot. The names of the delegate were printed in alphabetical order, with no indication of whom they represented.

ROOSEVELT DELEGATES.

The thirty-two delegates that have been elected to vote for Roosevelt are from the following districts: Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first, and one each in the Third and Fifteenth.

Complete returns from fifty-nine of the eighty-eight counties of the State show that Roosevelt carried forty-five of them and Taft fourteen. Of the fifty-nine Gov. Harmon carried the same number as Col. Roosevelt, and in the fourteen counties carried by Wilson, Taft, on the Republican ticket, failed to get one of them.

Historic Arlington to be Razed.

Washington, May 20.—Bread was broken for the last time in the historic old Arlington Hotel. Tomorrow the furnishings of the old house will be placed under the auctioneer's hammer and as soon as they are disposed of the building will be razed to make room for a new Arlington, which the promoters say will represent a cost, completed and furnished, $4,000,000. The old hotel was erected in 1887 and was opened to the public three years later. An addition was constructed in 1899.

The Arlington Hotel and its site has been identified with the history of the country since President Washington defined the boundaries of Lafayette Park, in which it stands, when he selected the site for the Executive Mansion, in 1793.

St. Louis Lands Baptist Meeting.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 18.—The next meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention will be held in St. Louis, beginning May 14, 1913. The convention today adopted the recommendation of the Special Committee on time and place by a vote of 629 for St. Louis to 234 for San Antonio. St. Louis was entered as a dark horse. The contest was between San Antonio and Asheville, but the delegates could not agree among themselves and selected St. Louis as a compromise.

Perhaps one of the most important matters of finance yet handled by the convention, was the vote to establish the Judson Memorial Fund, which involves the raising of $1,111,111 for the adequate equipment of colleges in foreign fields. Of the amount $200,000 is appropriated for the Baptist foreign publication interests.

The money is to be raised in three years and not later than the annual Southern convention in 1913. In addition to this memorial fund is to consist of $250,000 for the hospitals and mission homes in the foreign fields.

Democratic Committee Chairman is Indicted.

Georgetown, Ky., May 18.—R. H. Anderson, chairman of the Scott County Democratic Committee and former Mayor of Georgetown, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of falsely certifying to election returns from the Democratic primary last July.

Mr. Anderson has served as a member of the State Legislature and is one of the best-known politicians in Central Kentucky. He is the owner of a string of race horses, including Joe Morris.

The indictment follows a long inquiry into alleged election frauds in the county and the grand jury which returned the indictment is the third one which has taken up the matter for investigation. When the last grand jury failed to return an indictment Judge Stout scored the members and barred six of the men from further jury service while he was on the bench. It is said that the most flagrant violation of the law occurred in the Democratic primary last July.

Boys Will Govern City.

Chicago, Ill., May 20.—About 2,600 boys of Chicago and neighboring cities of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan will rule as grown men in a miniature city at Segars Lake, Ind., near Valparaiso, during the first fifteen days in July. It will be known as the National Boys' City.

This summer camp has been held for the last five years at Charlevoix, Mich. Its purpose is to give an outing and education in civic affairs. Heretofore poor boys were unable to attend.

There will be a boy mayor, boy aldermen, boy policemen and boy officers in all other positions known to a full-grown city.

A small poll tax and a fee for visitors will constitute the revenue for the support of the city.

RAILROADS HAULING FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

Traffic Managers Ask for Additional Refrigerator Cars to Meet Season's Demand.

Austin, Texas, May 21.—Never in the history of railroad business in Texas has there been such a demand for refrigerator cars as now exists in different parts of the state. This is due to the wonderful increase in the truck and fruit industry, which has expanded more rapidly than the railroads have been able to keep up with in the matter of providing sufficient equipment to move the crops promptly. The season opened the first of April with a record-breaking production of cabbage, hundreds of cars being shipped from South Texas points. This was followed by the Bermuda onion movement, which promises to aggregate about 4,000 cars. These shipments have taxed the transportation facilities of several Texas roads, but no serious shortage of cars has so far been reported. Besides the cabbages and onions, hundreds of cars of other vegetables, such as lettuce, cauliflower, radishes and snap beans, have been handled by the railroads during the last few weeks.

It is conservatively estimated by railroad traffic men in Texas that the total movement of vegetables and fruit in this state during 1912 will be upwards of 30,000 cars. This, of course, includes many thousand cars of mixed shipments. When the fact is considered that all of this traffic is comparatively new business, it speaks most effectively of the development that is going on in the state. Only a few years ago the railroads did not take into consideration the few car-load shipments of fruits and vegetables they handled out of Texas. Now, these shipments form a very important feature of the railroad tonnage in this state.

The truck-growing industry is increasing by leaps and bounds. As an illustration of this fact, it is shown that this spring's production of vegetables and the shipments of same along the gulf coast line of the Frisco are more than double what they were during the same season last year. Railroads are encouraging in every possible way the truck-growing industry along their respective lines. The Frisco and other roads are endeavoring to make South Texas the kitchen garden of the United States.

Tennesseans Wed on Train.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 21.—Miss Lizze Comper and Ben Trainer of Hampton Station, Tenn., killed two birds with one stone when they were married on a train and converted the trip into a honeymoon.

They boarded a Louisville and Nashville train last week and went to Guthrie. A preacher boarded the train there and while the circuit of "Y" was being made the ceremony was performed with the train crew as witnesses.

The train started immediately for the return trip, and after thirty-five minutes the couple was back at home.

Motion Pictures in School.

Paducah, Ky., May 21.—Motion pictures will be installed in the Paducah public schools next year as an educational feature to the schools. A sufficient sum of money has been raised for the purchase of the machine. At present a stereopticon is used to illustrate the topics in history, and it has proved so successful that the moving pictures will be installed and extended to subjects other than history. The cost of the system is nominal, and it has been approved by other modern schools.

Grand Master to Be Here.

The members of the Hartford Lodge F. and A. M. are busy preparing to entertain the Grand Master of this lodge, Hon. Dave Jackson, of Louisville, who will pay the Hartford lodge a visit on Monday night June 3.

Arrangements are being made to serve a splendid lunch that evening, and the other Masonic lodges in the county are being invited to attend. Lodge will be opened that evening at 6 o'clock p. m. and there will probably be degrees conferred.

Carpenter Inherits Fortune.

Joliet, Ill., May 21.—Frank A. Jackson, a carpenter contractor of this city received word in a letter last night that he was the sole heir to the estate of Mrs. Mary Jackson, of Polkington, Yorkshire, England, containing 3,500 acres and valued at $5,000,000.

NEW LAW WILL DELAY SCHOOL MONEY

School Teachers May Not Get Their Salaries This Year in Time for Christmas.

Frankfort, Ky., May 22.—The officials here are afraid the act giving sheriffs one month more time to make their final settlements with the state, will cause some delay in paying the school teachers a part of their salary in December, as has been the custom.

The act passed by the recent legislature changes the date for final settlement by the sheriffs from December each year to December 31, and it is conceded that the bulk of this money collected by sheriffs will now be paid in on December 31 instead of December 1.

Heretofore sheriffs have been settling up on December 1, thus enabling the treasurer to send out checks to the school teachers so they would have money for Christmas shopping. It is contended that the recent act will benefit no one but the banks where the sheriffs keep their deposits, as it will enable them to include the sheriffs' deposits in their annual statements issued on January 1 of each year.

Teachers Elected on June 15.

All county school teachers are to be elected this year on June 15, under a ruling of the state board of education, which met in Frankfort with the county school superintendents of the state. The board decided that the new school law, which is effective June 12, will govern this year.

County superintendents and teachers' institute instructors have formed state organizations, and each elected officers. Each started a movement looking toward increasing the salaries of school teachers and a general betterment of the educational condition in Kentucky. The institute instructors desire to be placed on a better basis and will prepare a bill to be offered at the next session for payment by the state of all institute instructors for pay for school teachers while attending institutes and for abolishing all fees paid by teachers. The bill would appropriate $25,000 for the holding of institutes and further would provide that no instructor should conduct institutes unless first granted a license by the state board of education.

The state board of education decided that the salaries of teachers must be equalized as much as possible, and the grading of the certificate, the size of the district and school attendance be considered in fixing salaries.

Sylvester White Dead.

Owensboro, Ky., May 21.—Mr. Sylvester White, residing on Parish avenue, died of meningitis, at his home, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mr. White was 43 years old and was born in Ohio county. Mr. White had been sick for several months, and as he had been very low for the past four days, his death was not unexpected. He is survived by his wife and six children. The children are Hermon, Robert, Esther and Hazel White, Mr. J. T. White and Mrs. Bettie White, of Eldorado, Ill.

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock from the residence and the remains were taken at once to the union station and carried by the I. C. train to Deanfield. The burial took place about noon at the Sugar Grove cemetery.

Mrs. White and family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. White and daughter, Doris, and Mrs. Bettie White, accompanied the remains to Deanfield.

Owensboro Chautauqua Sold.

Owensboro, Ky., May 22.—T. A. Padley, receiver of the Owensboro Savings Bank and Trust company, purchased the Seven Hills chautauqua property for $11,000, when it was offered for sale to the highest and best bidder, by Master Commissioner LaVega Clements, at the courthouse door on Monday morning.

The sale was made under an order entered in the circuit court in which the commissioner was directed to make a sale of the property to pay the indebtedness that had been adjudged against it, and which amounted to $16,577.38, the greater part of which was in favor of Receiver Padley and W. H. Bowmer.

The park contains about thirty acres of land and is considered a valuable piece of suburban property.

RICHESON PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Murderer of Sweetheart Dies in Electric Chair.

End of Tragedy That Has Given Shock to Whole Civilized World.

Baton, Mass., May 21.—At 12:15 o'clock this morning Clarence V. T. Richeson, unrepentant pastor and slayer of Avis Linnell, was executed in the prison in Charlestown.

Three times the current was turned on, and when it was switched off the last time the limbs of the law's victim had ceased to tremble, and he was officially pronounced dead by the prison physician.

Richeson went to his death calmly. True to his promise he made no scene and walked with firm step to the execution chamber.

The current was turned on at 12:10:02, and the prisoner was declared totally dead at 12:17.

The former Baptist clergyman, confessed poisoning Avis Linnell of Hyannis, his sweetheart, was outwardly calm when he entered the death chamber, and he maintained his composure while the straps and electrodes were being adjusted as he sat in the electric chair.

The execution of the Reverend Richeson draws the curtain on a tragedy unsurpassed for cunning, cruelty and notoriety in the criminal annals of the United States. The minister, with his wedding announcement already in the hands of friends, and a discarded sweetheart importuning him to relieve her from a position that would cloud her life with shame, calmly conceived a plan that would release him from his unwelcome liaison and leave him free to marry the woman of his choice.

With hypocritical cunning he soothed the fears of the little choir singer, pledging himself to right the wrong he had done and then deliberately purchased a quantity of cyanide of potassium, a deadly poison, from Druggist Hahn, of Boston, and set about compounding the pills that spelled death to the girl and freedom to himself. His next step was to make an appointment with his unsuspecting sweetheart and present her with the drug, counseling its early use with kindly words and assurances of its efficacy.

The preacher then journeyed to the home of his fiancée, where he awaited the death that would set him free and forever dispel the chance of discovery. He had not long to wait. On October 14, scarcely twenty-four hours after he had given the girl the cyanide capsules, her body was found in the bathroom of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

It was at first believed that she had committed suicide in a fit of despondency upon learning the news of Richeson's approaching marriage to Miss Edmonds. The inquest, however, revealed the fact that had she lived she would have become a mother, and the autopsy showed that her death had been caused by cyanide of potassium.

The events that followed raised the girl's death from the status of a little mentioned suicide to the estate of one of the most atrocious and widely advertised murders on the annals of American crime. Link by link the evidence against the minister was forged. The police, acting on the theory of that someone had given the girl poison and had told her that it would bring about a change in her physical condition, began a systematic canvass of the various drug stores in an effort to locate the purchaser.

William Hahn, a druggist of Newton Centre, a Boston suburb, recalled selling the Rev. Mr. Richeson a quantity of cyanide shortly before the girl's death was reported. He saw no connection between the sale and the death, but felt it his duty to communicate with the police.

A BOOK THAT HAS NO STOPPING PLACES!

At Least You Won't Stop Until You Have Read it From Cover to Cover

"THE VULTURE'S CLAW" BY REV. C. F. WIMBERLY, OF MADISONVILLE, KY.

"The Vulture's Claw" is an absorbingly interesting story, with a deep religious moral. The story takes its name from a miserly, grasping hypocrite whose left hand is deformed into the shape of a claw and his character is so much like a vulture that the title of the book is peculiarly apt. Mr. Wimberly introduces more than a dozen interesting characters and a multiplicity of situations which he handles with a master hand. His descriptive work is nothing short of genius. Most of the action takes place in the remote Ozark mountains and much of it hangs upon the coming into the mountains of a school mar'm who fuses new life and ambition into the community; and in coming of a Methodist minister with whose beautiful character the reader readily falls in love. "The Vulture's Claw" is a remarkable story of hardship depicting the unfavorable environments of remote mountain sections; of the influence of one or two strong personalities upon the lives of many people, and through every page runs a double romance which absorbs the interest of the reader.

ATTRACTIVE FOR YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER.

It's a book of fiction—of intense interest, of everyday characters, and a plot that makes the hair raise only to prepare you for the happy ending. Christian homes will appreciate this story, because of the deeply religious moral so adroitly and so strongly interwoven.

Read what others say about it

WM. JENNINGS BRYAN SAYS:

"Rev. C. F. Wimberly, Madisonville, Ky.—My Dear Mr. Wimberly: I have read 'The Vulture's Claw'; it is a splendid story. The book should find a place in Sunday school libraries and among the books for young people. You have succeeded admirably in combining moral lessons with an interesting narrative. I congratulate you. Yours truly, 'W. J. BRYAN'"

AN UPLIFTING FORCE.

A remarkable book; it has that strange inefable charm and power which held us to the very last page. It shows the battles among the hard environments, and the victories that may be won. It will be an uplifting force in every life which only eternity can measure.—St. Louis Christian Advocate.

IT INSPIRES CONFIDENCE.

Before the eyes of the reader, in clearest outline, is the destructive power of the hypocrite, and the constructive power of the humble pious life. It inspires confidence to splendid success. It is clearly seen that Mr. Wimberly is acquainted with rural life in the South.—United Presbyterian.

SHOULD BE READ.

I consider it one of the best books of fiction I have ever read. It is the kind of fiction that should be read. There is nothing in it but what is elevating and helpful. The plot is well gotten up and there is enough comedy and tragedy both in it to interest any lover of fiction. I thought so much of it that I made a public announcement of the book in the chapel, and urged every student to get it and read it.—M. A. Beeson, Pres. Meridian Male College.

WATER POWER LATENT ASSET

European Countries Are Far Ahead of United States.

Arrangements Being Made For Developing America's Resources.

Washington, May 17.—Growing interest is manifested in the utilization of water power as a means of obtaining cheap electricity in the United States. According to information compiled by the Department of Commerce and Labor, electricity generated by private concerns in the United States is fifty per cent higher than the cost of the same material abroad. It is also stated that the manufacture of electricity in the United States has not followed the cheapest manner of providing electricity.

From a document procured from the United States Senate, the information is contained that nearly all foreign countries have developed water power as a means of procuring electricity to a marked degree of perfection. In France, Germany, Austria, England and other foreign countries, private concerns are given grants of franchise under government control and regulation, producing electricity at a minimum cost.

Water power developments in this country are of two classes. Those controlled and operated by the State and those controlled and operated by private interests. Of the power increase for the year 1909 horse power was made available by plants privately owned and 16,000 by the Trollhattan plant, owned by the State.

The private activities of Sweden, which holds the European record for water power with an aggregate of 640,000 horse power, found their field chiefly in Southern and Central Sweden. The height of the falls utilized varied from 2 feet to 243 feet, but they were as a rule less than 49.21 feet in height, so far as is known, the dams were in all cases built by Swedish firms and the machinery furnished by Swedish manufacturers.

Of the new Swedish plants completed during the year, the largest is that at Mockfjard, utilizing the waterfall known as Stopforsarna, and developing 20,000 horse power from a fall of 75 feet. The power is used for iron works and the installation is owned by Vasterdalavens Kraft Aktiebolag. The next largest is that at Forsfalt, developing 10,000 horse power from a fall of 13 feet. This power is used for iron works and the plant is owned by Uddeholms Aktiebolag of Uddeholm, Sweden.

Of the rebuilt Swedish plants, the largest is the municipal plant of Skelleftea, located at Finforaen and developing 5,650 horse power from a fall of 66 feet. The second is that at Domnarvett, developing 4,700 horse power from a fall of 29 feet, and furnishing power to the iron works at Storå Kopparberg Aktiebolag, by which it is owned. This concern is installing an electrical blast furnace for the production of pig iron. In addition to its other large activities, the third in size is the property of Sydsvenska Kraft Aktiebolag and is located at Ofre Knard. The power amounting to 3,000 horse power is produced from a fall of 32 feet and is sold for general distribution.

Incomplete private plants, both new and those undergoing extensive repairs and reconstruction, represented at the close of the year a total of about 35,000 horse power as compared with over 67,000 horse power under way at the close of 1910. Practically all of this is represented by two new installations one of develop 17,000 horsepower and the other 5,000. The largest is at Ljungafors and is owned by Stockholm Superfosfabriks Aktiebolag, of Stockholm, manufacturers of superphosphates and other fertilizers. The fall is 123 feet. The power is to be used in the manufacture of calcium cyanide.

The uses to which the power was put, both by private and State power plants were: municipal, thirteen plants; iron works, twelve; mechanical wood pulp mills, eight; paper mills, seven; textile mills, five and chemical works, one. The government work completed at the end of the year consisted of the addition of 10,000 horsepower at the already existing plant at Trollhattan.

The total possible horse power to be found in the streams of Sweden in such shape that it might be utilized is variously estimated at from two to nine millions, and it probably approximates 4,000,000. The unfortunate feature is that so large a proportion of this undeveloped natural wealth is located in the north, and in parts of the country where it is difficult to utilize it to advantage. With the improvement in transmission methods, however, this obstacle may in time become less important.

In addition to its general uses for operating machinery and street cars and for lighting, electricity is used in Sweden in rolling mills, mine hoists, mine drills, magnetic ore separators, the electro-chemical industries and the smelting of steel. Lately it has also been used for the reduction of ore to pig iron. The large quantity available have led to its use for the operation of agricultural machinery, threshing machines, etc., and it is proposed now to equalize the consumption throughout the twenty-four hours in cities by selling power at very low rates during the hours when the load is low, so that it may be introduced into the household for heating and cooking, and other domestic purposes for which under ordinary rates, it is too expensive for general use. The transmission of power from Trollhattan has been proposed and is still under consideration.

It is pointed out that Sweden is one of the few countries in Europe that has just awakened to the great possibilities of her natural resources in this respect and that consequently the rapid growth of her industries, created through the influence of her water power, has been the most remarkable in the world.

The United States, it is pointed out, has just begun to awaken to the possibilities of her water power, particularly in the West. Here, according to information received through senatorial investigation, water-power sites have been gobbled up by land speculators and very little improvement has started in comparison to the great number of sites held by private owners. This, it is claimed, has retarded the natural development of the West, making both electricity and irrigation a very costly commodity.

Suggestions, however, have been made to the Senate Committee that has undertaken a thorough study of the situation and in the near future, it is expected the United States will not only lead the various countries in the world in horsepower generated, but in the number of individual plants in operation.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Pension Bill a Law.

The President has signed the pension bill passed by the Senate and the House and it is now a law. Enacted nearly a half century after the close of the war, according to the estimate of the Commissioner of Pensions, the bill will add $25,797,702 to the annual appropriation for pensions, which last year was $157,989,555. This makes the total amount appropriated for pensions fifty years after the war over $180,000,000. The bill as finally adopted is better than the Sherwood bill, which added $75,000,000.

Under its provisions every veteran over sixty-two years of age who saw ninety days of service is to receive $13 a month if he served six months he is to get $13.50; one year $14; a year and a half $14.50; two years $15; two years and half $15.50; three years or over $16. The rate is increased for age. The veteran over sixty-six years old, who served ninety days gets $15 a month, with an increase of fifty cents for each additional ninety-days service up to three years. A veteran of three years or longer service gets $16 a month. When over seventy he who served ninety days gets $18 a month, with an increase of $1 for each ninety days served, up to $25 a month. A veteran who has served over two years and is seventy-five years old gets $20 a month.

John Wanamaker on Advertising

John Wanamaker said: Advertising doesn't jerk—it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year, until it exerts all irresistible power.

It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load, but one-half the power exerted in a steady effort will start it and keep it moving.

Improve Your Own Corn.

The business of improving the corn yield is a movement in which every farmer should bear an active part, especially when the improvement of the seed is considered.

In the fall the farmer may select out of his seed corn twenty-five of the best ears and hang them in a dry place all winter. In the spring a piece of ground considerably removed from other corn field should be selected. This should be of the best kind of soil and the tract should be large enough for fifty rows 3 1/2 feet apart, twenty-five hills long. Work the ground into good shape. Number the rows from one to twenty-five. In the two rows numbered one plant the corn from one ear, and the two rows numbered two plant the corn from the second ear, etc. Save the remnant seed, putting it into bags numbered in accordance with the ears from which it came. When the crop has matured count and weigh each row separately. In this way the ten best yielding rows may be determined. The next year plant the remnant seed from the bags corresponding in number with the best rows. In the fall select the best ears from this lot and use for planting in the general field. This practical system amounts to nothing else than an extensive experiment in seed testing, and should result in great improvement in yield within three or four years. By this system the farmer can not only determine which are the best kinds of corn, but also which kinds are especially adapted to his own land.

BEGINS LONG TOUR TO WIN SMALL BET

Chicago Doctor Leaves U. S. In Steerage for Seven Months in Europe.

New York, May 11.—Dr. George Mikkelson of the staff of the Norwegian Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, Chicago, sailed steerage today on the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II with $60 in his pocket to see him through a seven months' tour of Europe.

Dr. Mikkelson reached Hoboken from Chicago with $100, but after buying passage and a few odds and ends $40 had taken wings. His luggage consisted of a cap and rain coat, two old suits and four shirts done up in a handy bundle.

The trip is being made on a wager. The doctor must work his way when his money gives out, but must not practice medicine, beg, borrow nor steal. He may drive trucks, dig ditches or perform any sort of manual labor.

He must visit Copenhagen, take a lecture course at a medical institute in Vienna, see Berlin, Paris, London and Edinburgh.

He must keep an exact and itemized account of every penny spent and earned, and if he comes home as per agreement the original stake he set out will be refunded and he will win bets of $100 each from two fellow surgeons in the Chicago Hospital.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all dealers.

What Has Marriage to Offer to a Woman.

In an article on "The American Girl" in the May Woman's Home Companion, J. Nilsen Laurvik says:

"What has marriage to offer in compensation for the many things of which it deprives her, is a question that the young Miss of to-day asks herself with a growing skepticism. What opportunities of enjoyment does it hold that are not open to her before marrying? And with an increasing sophistication she confidently answers, 'None,' weighing with the greatest nicety the actual and known joys of girlhood against the problematical and restricted joys of wifehood. And not infrequently all the fuss and feathers attending her engagement is merely the paraphernalia of the most delightful make-believe ever invented, in which the girl pretends to the man that she regards him as the noblest and handsomest of human beings, while secretly in her heart she feels herself superior to him or any other man. At least that is the half-veiled attitude to-day in certain sections of American society, whose women members have come to adopt definitely the view that the girl has nothing to expect from marriage that she did not already possess; that, instead, she is confronted with certain definite duties attendant upon the care of a household which, if not positively distasteful to her, are certainly not to be regarded as sources of actual pleasure. It must be admitted that she is far oftener right than wrong in arriving at this conclusion, and who will blame her for refusing to allow herself to be either coaxed or coerced into assuming a relationship that offers so few opportunities for self-development as does the average home of to-day?"

Lame back is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the back, for which you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

Vacations for Everybody.

In an article on vacations in the May Woman's Home Companion, the author says in part:

"Horace Greely said he had been twenty years trying to find time to go on a fishing, and a few years later he died from overwork and anxiety. Many a farmer lives all his life within sight of running streams, or within sound of babbling brooks, and the suggestion that he hang up his hoe and go on a fishing never reaches him. Thoreau says, 'The better part of man is soon plowed into the soil as compost,' and I have known some such lives. I know a woman who put her babies in a barrel and left them while she worked in the field with her husband. Together they paid off the farm mortgage, and then bought more farms and paid off more mortgages. They never took vacations. Neither of them ever saw a train of cars until the iron rails were laid through their own lands, and when the first train passed through, the old lady was heard to say, 'Well, I have worked hard all my life, but now I shall have it easy. I can just sit and milk and see the cars go by.'"

"Another family of my acquaintance, living on a large farm, with fifty cows to milk and care for, and five hundred hens to look after, finds time every year for an outing; rather, they hire extra help on the farm and take the time, and they do not take the time grudgingly either. They figure that what the outing costs is the best investment of the whole year. They have their own tent, and camp for a week or more on a near-by stream or lake where fishing and boating are good. A fairly good tent can be brought for the price of a week's board at a summer resort, and the tent will last many years. Vacation does not necessarily spell Nantucket. Distance sometimes lends a great deal of enchantment. We forget that the birds sing just as sweetly in our own fields and groves as they do in fields and groves hundreds of miles away. Why should we remain shut in during all the hot summer months just because we cannot travel far away? If we cannot afford to own a tent, there are even less expensive ways of camping out."

The Mammoth Catalog.

There may be poets who can sing of almost any kind of thing and whoop it for budding Spring;

There may be orators who yell and argue to a fair-ye-well;

There may be authors who can write an make the black resemble white and life a vision of delight;

But when it comes to dreaming dreams and boosting money-making schemes until philanthropy it seems—Take off your hat to that sly dog who writes the "mammoth catalog."

We used to think the circus bills that filled us full of jumps and thrills and such excitement to the gills.

That talked about the this or that, the celebrated women fat, the clowns, the educated cat.

The mastodon rhinoceros, the hydra-headed horned, the hairless hippopotamus,

About the glittering parade that put the Caesars in the shade the highest form of bunk displayed—

But one thing puts them on the hog: The big, mail order catalog.

You'll notice everything therein is good as gold and cheap as sin, the reader's ready cash to win.

They're "splendid," "high-grade," "great" and "grand," by "experts made" or "artists planned," "the best and biggest in the land"

The simplest thing is "rich" and "rare," and every blooming thing is there from doory to artificial hair;

The cheapest substitute is "fine," the stuff is all "of best design," and "sold for 7.50."

For adjectives that will befog. Consult the "mammoth catalog."

'Tis said the circus poster can declare its golden caravan the greatest sight vouchsafed to man;

'Tis said a fisherman can take a minnow from a tiny lake and from the same a whale can make;

'Tis said a candidate can stand before a crowd with waving hands and prove 'twas he that saved the land;

'Tis said that Ananias' name is known to everlasting fame—and yet he never knew the game.

As does the later, slyer dog
Who writes the "mammoth catalog."

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The Sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste, make Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

If the first box fails to benefit, the price is returned. Ask your druggist. A box of 25 doses costs only 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

FAMOUS RELIGIOUS EDITOR.

The famed Bible defender, the venerable Pastor Russell of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles, has won unstinted praise from the press and public of many nations by forty years' unceasing activity as evangelist and writer.

In the early part of his ministry smaller cities were frequently visited, but not so now, since his field of operation has become world-wide, and the urgent invitations to deliver free public lectures in the largest cities have become so numerous that even all of these cannot be accepted.

For the past several years Pastor Russell has made semi-annual foreign tours, and, through the press reports of his meetings held in large public halls of the leading cities, he has received much favorable comment and publicity.

Wonderful Drawing Power.

As a public speaker on Bible topics, Pastor Russell stands unrivaled—stands alone in a place created by his own individual work, a place not previously attained nor occupied by another.

The mammoth crowds that repeatedly assemble to hear him at every opportunity is conclusive evidence as to his drawing power. Last year, while conducting a series of Sunday meetings in the London Royal Albert Hall, Pastor Russell received written communications through the mail from more than six thousand persons, requesting printed copies of his sermons. So spontaneous a demand was both unprecedented and unlooked for. Another evidence of his popularity on the other side of the rolling blue is the publication of his weekly sermons in something over three hundred papers in England, Ireland, Scotland, Australia.

The Editor of Great Britain's foremost family paper, The People's Journal, has so aptly commented and acted on the matter that we can do no better than to quote here the heart-to-heart talk he gave his readers. He said:—

A Wonderful Preacher.

"It is not the non-church-going tendencies of the Age that I want to talk to you about, although my theme is more or less closely connected with that subject. You have all, I think, heard of Pastor Russell, the wonderful American preacher, who has just been inducted to the charge of the London Tabernacle, known all over the United Kingdom and thousands of miles beyond, as the pulpit of the revered Spurgeon. Mr. Russell has achieved a position in the world of religious thought unequalled by any living Divine. And, curiously enough, he delivers his sermons to far more people 'outside' the church than could ever be brought together within the walls of the largest temple in the Universe. His sermons and writings have won for themselves an extraordinary popularity in America and I am credibly informed that Pastor Russell's printed books on religious subjects are excelled in circulation only by the Bible itself. Just think what this means. It means that millions of people all over the world have found something in Pastor Russell's sermons, essays and lectures which they have been unable to discover in any other religious writings apart from the Great Book itself."

A Weekly Talk.

"Now, to come to the crux of the matter. I feel sure that the vast majority of my readers will learn with pleasure that I have arranged for a weekly contribution from the pen of Pastor Russell. A 'sermonette' Mr. Russell himself calls it, but I have an idea it will be found to be something more, something fuller, than merely a condensed sermon. I have been reading a selection of the famous Pastor's religious writings, and they appeal to me as being more of the nature of quiet, discursive talks on serious subjects than sermons or pulpit deliverances of the conventional description. Pastor Russell is a clear, easily understood thinker; he eschews dogma and all subtleties of form and faith, and he says what he has to say on the great truths of religion and morals in plain but always beautiful language. He speaks and writes not only to the ordinary church-goer, as we accept the phrase, but to all intelligent men and women, and I for one can quite well appreciate the unparalleled popularity which he has achieved in America—a popularity, I feel convinced, he will very soon equal in this country. Pastor Russell's talks will begin in the Journal next week, and I am hopeful that they will be an extremely popular feature of the Journal."

The Press of America.

Pastor Russell's popularity abroad does not deprive him of the honor of preaching to the largest congregation in America. Surprising as it may seem, his sermons are at present published in more than one thousand newspapers in America, reaching approximately ten million homes weekly. Last June and July, while making a trans-continental tour to attend the Bible Students Convention at San Francisco, Pastor Russell made several stops en route, and the reception everywhere accorded the "American Spurgeon" was most heart-cheering.

Many excellent accounts of his meetings were published: "The San Francisco Call," in making reference to what other papers were saying, interestingly summarized as follows:—

"Pastor Russell's given name has been lost to public record during the last ten years, in which he has been famous as the great 'Pastor'—plain Pastor Russell—who has swayed hundreds of thousands in this country and abroad."

"Do they come to hear him? Well, rather! So far it has been impossible to engage a hall large enough to hold the crowds. Dreamland Rink has been hired for this occasion. In Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and Los Angeles the Pastor and his faithful crew have taken the populace by storm. The newspapers have given him more space than a war scare and print his speeches like a Presidential message."

Has Many Interpreters.

Pastor Russell recently returned from a "Round-the-World" Tour. His was a two-fold work, as he by appointment was to investigate certain matters pertaining to Foreign Mission activities, and also to deliver public addresses in Great Britain, Greece, India, Ceylon, China, Japan, etc. He is soon to leave on another Tour, which will include nearly all of the countries not previously visited by him. Thus the declaration that the "Gospel of the Kingdom" shall be preached as a witness to all nations in all the world will, by the end of this year, practically be fulfilled by him alone.

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what this substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red blood and throw out the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years has excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a pure glyceric extract (without alcohol), of bloodroot, golden seal and Oregon grape root, stone root, mandrake and queen's root with black cherry bark.

"My husband was a sufferer from stomach trouble and impure blood," writes Mrs. JAMES H. MARTIN, of Frankfort, Ky. "He had a sore on his face that would form a scab which would dry and drop off in about a month, then another would immediately form. It continued this way for a long time. He tried every remedy that any one would suggest but found no relief. He then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which completely cured him. He has stayed cured now for two years, and I recommend this valuable medicine for impurities of the blood."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

SPIRITISM SAID TO BE DEMONISM.

A most interesting little brochure has recently come off the press setting forth with Bible proofs that the communications received by and through Spiritist Mediums is of Demon origin. The writer traces his subject through the Scriptures from the time when certain of the holy angels became disobedient. He proves from the Scriptures that these fallen spirits personate the human dead, with whose past history, spirits, though invisible, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding their deceived ones to pray, do penance, etc. This, however, is merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demonic control. Sometimes by breaking down the natural barrier, the human will, they possess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin—frequently sending such to the mad-house. Numerous illustrations, Scriptural and otherwise, are given. The price of the little book is but ten cents; it should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or who have friends interested therein. Enclose five two-cent stamps to the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hough River—123

FRIDAY, MAY 24.

New Jersey next.

On to Chicago and Baltimore.

Let us all give thanks. The primaries are about over.

Canadian reciprocity has now been snowed under in the United States, as well as Canada.

Democratic free traders of the South became protectionist in a hurry whenever it is proposed to place sugar on the free list.

Ohio Democrats seem to prefer Clark and will no doubt instruct for him tomorrow. Hon. R. E. Lee Simmerman is mentioned for delegate from the fourth district.

Notwithstanding the warm fight now going on in Democratic ranks for the Presidential nomination, a slim vote has been cast in every State where the primary election has been held. On the other hand the Republican vote, in almost every instance has been large. Looks like a Republican year.

A few weeks ago the Taft leaders at Washington met and resolved that the President should put more ginger into his campaign—should jump on Col. Roosevelt with both feet. Well he did. Now the same Taft leaders are crying out against so much personalities and "mud slinging." Even suggesting a dark horse because of the personal abuse indulged in by the candidates.

Senator Bradley is not a good prognosticator of Republican Presidential nominees. He missed it in 1896, in 1908 and is billed to miss it even in a more marked degree in 1912. There were no contests for the nomination in 1896 and 1904, or he might have other bad prophecies to his credit. At the Kentucky convention Senator Bradley was quoted as saying that the Roosevelt boom would not last thirty days. He now predicts that Col. Roosevelt will bolt, but if there is any bolting it must be by the Taft followers.

President Taft has no one to blame but himself for his loss of the great West and Central States in his race for renomination. He deliberately estranged the farmer vote by his free trade Canadian treaty which he passed by the aid of Democratic votes in Congress. He was warned and he shared the advice of those who knew what he was inviting. The American farmer is a better organized and a better informed citizen than when Taft was a boy. He has never been able to see just how the consumer was to benefit by this reciprocity scheme without doing him any harm.

CONTINUAL NAGGING AT THE TARIFF.

The men who were doing the most of the complaining and attempting to place the responsibility upon the Tariff are of the same class that twenty years ago went and down th country preaching the doctrine of discontent, which resulted in the defeat of President Harrison, the enactment of the Wilson Tariff bill and the reduction of wages and prices all along the line. Many thousands of workmen were laboring at reduced wages and many more thousand were without work, but the prices of farm produce were lower, clothing was cheaper, fuel was cheaper. But the people suffered, because without the money they could not buy, so the low prices of commodities were no benefit to the ultimate consumer. The continual nagging at the Tariff may bring about a like condition again, and it will not be possible to correct the blunder for four years.—Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer, May 7.

ACQUIRING A GOOD-WILL.

Speaking of the high cost of getting a start in business, a friend in a near by town tells us that the sum of $5,000 is asked for the "good will" of a certain small concern, exclusive of stock and fixtures. The business is supposed to pay $2,000 a year inclusive of owners salary.

It costs so much to buy out an established business, unless the same is forced on the market, that starting a new concern commonly seems more hopeful. But if in the old time way, a man simply hangs out his shingle and waits for trade to come, the prime of life may be gone before he gets it.

The same result can be had in a fifth the time by efficient advertising.

Enterprise and truth telling are the qualities that draw trade. To prove that he has enterprise, and is wide awake enough to protect the customer's interest a merchant must take the initiative and make a vigorous push for business.

A newspaper advertisement can be placed in every home for 1 per cent. of the cost of personal solicitation. It is read when people are at their leisure, in a mood to listen to what the merchant has to say.

Good advertising gives an impression that the merchant is alert and energetic in meeting public needs, and a public impression of that kind is a "good will," having a large cash value. It is like money on interest in the bank.

Returning to our starting point, if instead of paying $5,000 a year for that business, a man should spend $500 a year for two years in advertising, he would have $4,000 in his pocket and a better business standing.

Lincoln a Protectionist.

The American Protective Tariff League is circulating in defense of high Protection a speech by Lincoln, in which he said: "Inasmuch as most good things are produced by labor, it follows that all such things of right belong to those who labor has produced them. But it has so happened in all the ages of the world that some have labored and others have without labor enjoyed a large portion of the fruits. This is wrong, and should not continue. To secure to each laborer the whole product of his labor, or as nearly as possible, is a worthy object of any good government. That seems like a very dangerous doctrine for high Protectionists to subscribe to.—Toronto Globe

Why should this be dangerous doctrine for Protectionists? It is the foundation stone of Protection, the basic principle of the American Protective Tariff League, that, as nearly as possible, labor should receive the value of labor's product. And labor in the United States does receive such value to an extent not known in any other country. Protection begins at the beginning when it reutes and insures a demand for labor. Labor's reward increases as the demand for labor is created and maintained. As the demand decreases so does the reward of labor decrease. Protection seeks to and does increase the demand for labor. Free Trade diminishes the demand by permitting foreigners to do the work that domestic labor can and should do. The Lincoln of fifty years ago and the Protectionist of to-day harmonize entirely on the question of Protection.

HARTFORD MILL CO.

Come to Hartford—Quarantine Lifted.

For three weeks there has been more or less excitement over the county over the smallpox scare, which disease was thought to have been in this city. Taking every precaution possible, and in order to keep it from getting in the school the school was dismissed and all pupils and teachers were ordered to stay at their homes for twenty days.

This order has now been fully complied with, and the Health Officer, Dr. S. J. Wedding, has lifted the quarantine, and for two weeks there have been no new cases of the disease which resembled smallpox, and by many was doubted if that disease.

"The Vulture's Claw" is full of Christianity, complications comedy, romance and tragedy and written by Rev. C. F. Wimberly, who held the Methodist revival in Hartford recently. It is a wonderful book and we are offering it and The Republican for one year for $1.00. Send your orders before books are exhausted. 39tf.

Mr. Samuel Rafferty, an old and respected citizen of Select, Ky., died at his home at that place Tuesday. He had been in bad health for several months and death was not unexpected. Funeral and interment was at Select, Wednesday. The deceased was an uncle to Mrs. R. E. Duke, Mrs. J. W. O'Bannon, Mrs. Silo Taylor and Mr. Fred Cooper, of this city.

Many who have read "The Vulture's Claw" pronounce it to be one of the greatest of the later books. It is filled with genius and holds the reader's attention from the first in intense, thrilling interest with not a dull page. The plot is strikingly developed amidst the rare beauty of the Kentucky hills. The Hartford Republican one full year and "The Vulture's Claw" all for $1.00. 39tf.

Mr. John Johnson, route 7, and Magistrate B. S. Chamberlain, Mack Cook, J. C. Jackson and Grant Pollard went to the plant of the Hartford Stone & Construction Co., near Irvington, Ky., Monday for the purpose of investigating the quarry, with the intention of buying it for Ohio county. They were accompanied by Mr. Rowan Holbrook, who is a large stockholder in the company.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Republican will be found the statement of the condition of the Bank of Hartford, the Beaver Dam Deposit Bank, the Rockport Deposit Bank and the McHenry Deposit Bank, as of May 18. All of these institutions are in splendid condition, which speaks well for the conservative management of the officers and directors of these four banks. We invite a careful reading of their reports.

Mr. Claude McKenney and Mr. W. D. Woodward, of Beaver Dam, will leave that city next Tuesday for New York, where they will take ship for Manaus, Brazil. Mr. Woodward has been engaged in civil engineering in South America for several years with a large railroad construction company, and has a lucrative position. Mr. McKenney will also have a splendid position with the same company, but will be engaged in the accounting department. The many friends of the gentlemen wish them much success.

Eggs and Poultry.

The annual output of eggs in the United States in 1910 was about 20,000,000,000. The value of the egg crop in 1910 was $206,000,000. The value of fowls raised in 1910 was $222,000,000. The total fowl and egg crop, then, in 1910 fetched $658,000,000.

The great poultry state of the Union is Missouri. The value of the eggs and the chickens in Missouri in 1910 was $33,000,000. Iowa is a close second and Kansas also crowds up near the head of the chicken procession.

Illinois and Ohio are the great poultry states of the North central group.

Tennessee produced $12,000,000 worth of eggs and chickens in 1910, an amount that is respectable as to the other Southern States.

Kentucky led Tennessee by about a million.

The value of poultry and eggs in Mississippi ran about $7,000,000.

Arkansas produced $7,000,000 worth, but Oklahoma came along with chickens and eggs amounting to more than $12,000,000.

In Alabama the amount was about $6,000,000.

The eggs fetched more money in the East than in the West. Eggs produced for instance, in Illinois averaged 19 cents a dozen; those in Missouri 17 cents a dozen, but those in the far East 20 cents a dozen.

It will be seen that the chicken and egg crop, then, is worth more than half as much as the cotton crop.—Commercial Appeal.

"GRATITUDE" MEANS MALIGNANT ATTACK UPON ROOSEVELT

Taft's Tirade Not New to Men Who Know Him.

When Seeking the Presidency in 1908
He Strove to Appear as a Staunch
Progressive—Wore a Mask For Two Years—Has Now Openly Stamped
Himself as a Reactionary.

Washington, April.—Stung to the quick by his belated recognition of the long patent fact that the voters of the Republican party had repudiated his candidacy for renomination and are overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt as their candidate for the presidency this year, Mr. Taft has at last thrown aside all restraint and carried out the threat which he has been muttering to his intimates for some weeks to speak out in public his real thoughts about the man who made him president.

In Mr. Taft's tirade against Mr. Roosevelt at Springfield, Mass., there is nothing essentially new to those who have been on anything more than relations of casual intimacy with the president for some time. It is a fact known to not a few of those closely connected with the campaign of 1908 that even at that time the Taft family was displaying that peculiarly malignant temper toward Mr. Roosevelt which so often takes the place of gratitude in the hearts of those who have benefited by a great service rendered by a friend. It is a fact known to not a few persons that at times during the campaign of 1908 the talk about Mr. Roosevelt among members of the Taft family was such as to cause the greatest uneasiness to the managers of Mr. Taft's campaign for the presidency, lest it should become public and work serious damage to the campaign. Those familiar with the true feeling toward Mr. Roosevelt in the Taft family have been surprised that Mr. Taft has concealed for so long his real attitude toward his benefactor.

From the time last fall when the strong sentiment of the country in favor of Colonel Roosevelt began to manifest itself unmistakably, there has been much talk from Taft sources about Colonel Roosevelt's ingratitude to Mr. Taft. It has been assumed by Mr. Taft's partisans that, because Colonel Roosevelt was instrumental in bringing about Mr. Taft's nomination and election to the presidency, he was therefore bound at all times, under all circumstances and at all costs, to support Mr. Taft's administration and Mr. Taft's renomination and election. That assumption is entirely unwarranted and has no logical justification. The fact is that Taft, the president, is not and never for one moment has been the Taft Mr. Roosevelt and his intimates associates knew as secretary of war and whom they supported as a candidate for the presidency.

While Mr. Taft was seeking the presidency he constantly sought to appear as a staunch and true progressive. But on that November night in 1908 when the count of the votes showed that he had been elected to the presidency, he ceased to make any effort actually to be a progressive. For some time he continued to wear a mask as a progressive, but in the last two years of his presidency he has not kept up even that feeble effort to deceive the people of the country. By his constant association with the Aldriches, the Canons and the Lorimers, by his ready submission to their influence and advice, by his active support of the measures they devised and favored; by his co-operation with them in matters of patronage, and by his unblinking attempt to coerce the real progressives through the brazen use of federal patronage, he has stamped himself openly as the reactionary which he has always been at heart.

A single illustration will suffice for the demonstration of this proposition. In his speech at Cincinnati, in July, 1908, accepting the nomination for the presidency, Mr. Taft took occasion to reiterate his endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt and to enumerate some of the acts which he regarded as the distinctly beneficial achievements of his predecessor. In that speech he said:

"He (Mr. Roosevelt) recommended the passage of a law, which the Republican convention has since specifically approved, restricting the future issue of stocks and bonds by interstate railways to such as may be authorized by federal authority. He demonstrated to the people by what he said, by what he recommended to congress, and by what he did, the sincerity of his efforts to command respect for the law, and to save the country from the dangers of a plutocratic government, toward which we were fast tending."

In numerous speeches during the campaign of 1908 Mr. Taft declared his cordial support of Mr. Roosevelt's proposition to secure the enactment of a law controlling the issue of securities by interstate carriers. When he became president, he pretended to make such a law one of the paramount measures of his legislative program. He caused to be prepared, with much advertisement and publicity, a bill purporting to contain provisions aimed at such control of the issue of securities. This bill was drafted by the eminently successful corporation lawyer whom Mr. Taft had placed at the head of the department of justice. The moment that bill was read by the genuine progressives of the senate and house, they denounced its provisions to control the issue of securities as intended really to further the designs of the railroad reactionaries and the special interests whom Mr. Taft has steadily sought to please from the day he was inaugurated.

After a hard fight in the house, the Taft-Wickersham provisions were stricken from the bill and a substitute provision was adopted which at least embodied a recognition of the principle of federal control over the issue of such securities, and was, therefore, a distinct step in advance. When that measure reached the senate, Mr. Taft's allies and cronies there were vastly distributed by this provision. Aldrich, Crane, Penrose, Gallinger and all the other representatives of the special interests in the senate at once protested against it. These were the men with whom Mr. Taft was associating intimately, with whom he was working constantly, and upon whom he was relying for support in the senate.

They were the same men who had most vigorously opposed his nomination when they, like Mr. Roosevelt, believed him to be a real progressive, but already they had learned that his progressiveness was merely a mask worn for the purpose of securing the presidency. They knew now that he was as good a reactionary as any of them and they counted upon his support in defeating this provision for the control of the issue of securities by interstate carriers. They did not count in vain.

With Mr. Taft's knowledge and connivance, they arranged a deal with the Democratic opposition in the senate whereby they not only struck from the bill this provision which was in accordance with the Republican platform and the many speeches of Mr. Taft's campaign, but they stopped the further efforts of the real progressives in the senate to make the railroad bill, of which this provision was a part, a genuinely effective and valuable measure. Then they inserted in the bill as a sop to the public clamor for real legislation a provision for the appointment of a commission which was to determine not the method by which the government was to exercise its right to control the issue of securities by interstate carriers, but whether or not the government had such power. The appointment of this commission was a justification of the Republican platform and of every speech Mr. Taft had made in support of that platform. It was fair notice to the whole country that from that day forward no faith or credence could be given by the country to any declaration of any Republican platform upon which Mr. Taft might be running for office.

But now, in the face of this incontrovertible fact, and of scores more of exactly similar purport and effect, Mr. Taft has the effrontery to stand before a public audience and denounce Theodore Roosevelt and present himself in the attitude of the one who has the right to feel aggrieved. It is an astounding exhibition of willingness to deceive the people of the country in the effort to secure office.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back, an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at all druggists.

Obituary.

James Hyatt Whittinghill was born March 18th, 1846, at Tristler, Ky. He was the third son and the sixth child of Peter T. and Fannie E. Whittinghill, who were among the first settlers in that community. His grandfather was one of the pioneer settlers of Ohio county.

His boyhood and the days of his early manhood were spent on his father's farm. His eldest brother James having died of a wound received in the battle of Shiloh, and the second son meeting an early death; Jimmie became his father's chief counselor and advisor. He was a faithful and a dutiful son and no boy or man ever held parents in higher esteem. He guided his brothers and sisters by precept and example and they in turn gave to him love and respect and in later years a devotion almost equal to that of children for parent.

He received his education in the common schools of the day and in his early manhood taught several schools in the surrounding communities there winning the love and the respect of pupils who have remained his firm friends throughout life, and his high regard for them never wavered.

On January 26th, 1880, he was united in marriage to Mary Alice Withers. One son, Roscoe, came to bless this union. Shortly before his marriage he had purchased a farm near the old home place, and there he lived to the day of his death, February 23rd, 1912.

The Golden Rule was the standard of his life. Though he was not a confessed follower of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, still he lived a life as nearly acceptable to Him as mortal man's can be, and on February 18th, 1912 in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends and Rev. Brandon of the Christian church, he openly confessed Jesus Christ as his personal Savior and expressed a desire to fulfill all of the ordinances as soon as he was physically able. We believe his conversion dates to early manhood at the Old Pleasant Grove church, almost in the shadow of which, if it were standing, he was laid to rest on February 24th, 1912. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Brandon in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, in the New Pleasant Grove church. He is survived by his wife, son, little grand daughter, two brothers and four sisters.

He was a man above the average in every respect, no beggar was ever turned away from his door; the hospitality of his home was unbounded. As a farmer he studied his work and supplemented his labor with the principles of scientific agriculture, and his chief joy was in aiding his fellow farmer with the results of his experience.

The high esteem in which he was held by his friends and neighbors was plainly demonstrated during his last illness, and their love and cheer was a source of great joy and comfort to him.

"Uncle Jimmie" as he was familiarly known to all, was a man whose presence and influence will be sadly missed, not only by his family and relatives but by the community at large. While he sometimes made mistakes for there is no one perfect; the virtues of his clean upright life over-shadowed them, and he went into the presence of our Heavenly Father, "An honest man, the noblest work of God."

Greatly Pleased With "The Vulture's Claw."

Hartford, Ky.

Please accept my thanks for "The Vulture's Claw," which I received with my subscription to your valuable paper. I cannot afford to do without the paper or the book.

I have read "The Vulture's Claw" with interest and found not a dull page. It is surely a most wonderful book, full of romance, tragedy and christianity, and should be read by every one and in every home.

Yours truly,
O. T. BURDETTE.

Split-Log Drag Adopted.

Paducah, Ky., May 22.—Following the demonstration here of the "split-log drag" by the inventor, Ward King, interest in road building has reached a high pitch and good roads meetings will be held in every precinct in the county. Farmers are building the drags and after the next rain many roads will be dragged. The Board of Public Works experimented with a drag on two streets in Paducah and was so highly pleased that it has adopted the drag for street building. The drag has been found a success on every road upon which it has been used.

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article. This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

NO SIR, I CAN'T GET APPENDICITIS

I Eat All I Want to Now. No More Gas on the Stomach or Sour Stomach. No More Heavy Feeling After Meals or Constipation.

No matter what you've tried without getting relief JUST TRY simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in ADLER-1-KA! You will be surprised at the QUICK results and you will be guarded against appendicitis. THE VERY FIRST DOSE will help you and a short treatment with ADLER-1-KA will make you feel better than you have for years. This new German appendicitis remedy antiseptizes the stomach and bowels and draws off all impurities. A SINGLE DOSE relieves gas on the stomach, sour stomach, constipation, nausea or heavy feeling after eating almost AT ONCE. A short treatment often cures an ordinary case of appendicitis.

Study Manure Spreaders Before You Buy One

THE proper place to study a manure spreader is at the local dealer's place of business, where you can see the machine, study it part by part, see how each part is made and how it does its work. Study spreaders at first hand. Go to the local dealer and have him show you an

IHC Manure Spreader Kemp 20th Century Cloverleaf or Corn King

Learn the advantages of an apron spreader. Learn what constitutes a steady, reliable feed and the importance of it. Learn the reasons why different materials are used for different parts, and why each part does its work thoroughly. Learn the value of the service, the dealer can give you.

When you know manure spreaders we think you will buy an IHC spreader from your local dealer. He is the man to see.
